

PERON TO END 9-YEAR ARGENTINE RULE

Hurricane Ione Hits North Carolina Coast In Full Fury

About Town And Country By TIMOTHY T.

MRS. REBA JACKSON of 1329 South Lane street, Harrisburg, can look the other way, now.

This is the first year in 32 that Mrs. Jackson, widow of the late Hubert Finley Jackson who died five years ago, has not had a child in school. There are nine living children, all married except the youngest, who completed high school last year. The tenth child died at birth.

Mrs. Jackson has 19 grandchildren—nine boys and 10 girls. The oldest is 18 1/2 years, the youngest 15 days old.

Here is the list of children and grandchildren: Mrs. Gladys Parker, widow of the late Claude Parker, and children, Jeannette, Howard and Elaine, of Harrisburg; Mrs. Irvin Stucker and children, Ellen, Kenneth and Robert Dale of Crown Point, Ind.; F. M. (Buddy) Jackson and children, Francis Lee, David, Mary Lou and Linda Sue of Millstadt, Ill.; Charles Jackson and children, Brenda, Cheryl and Gerald Wayne of Spartanburg, S. C.; Mrs. Richard Blouir and daughter, Ruth Ann, of Gary, Ind.; Mrs. G. W. Stimson and sons, Stephen and Hubert, of Gary, Ind.; Mrs. Felix A. Tate and children, Ralph Finley and Judy Marie of Galatia; Mrs. Bill Pankey and daughter, Barbara Ann, of Harrisburg; Arthur Carl Jackson of Columbia, S. C.

And in spite of all these children and grandchildren, Mrs. Jackson is not yet 60 years of age.

ODDER THINGS: I have before me, enclosed in glass, one of the biggest bugs I ever saw. It was picked out around the Route 13, Carrier Mills blacktop intersection and brought in to me by a mystery figure. He would not tell me his name. This bug, apparently of the beetle family but maybe not, is about one and a half inches long and also has proportionate circumference. It's gray, and its pincers go up and down instead of sideways. It has lots of vitality.

An oddity brought in by Charles Barnes who found it three-fourths of a mile north of Harrisburg while squirrel hunting. It's hard to figure out this oddity but it looks more like a petrified wasp's nest than anything else I can think of.

Herrin Girl Named Dairy Princess

OLNEY, Ill. — Marilyn Eckert of Herrin, the new Dairy Princess of Illinois, will go on to compete with other state beauties in the National Dairy Princess contest at Carbondale.

Miss Eckert is 18 and a sophomore at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale.

Another SIU student, Marilyn Michaels, 20, of Noble, was chosen runner-up Saturday. Rosina Alexander, 20, of Mattson and a junior at the University of Illinois, took third place.

Fire Chief Martin Urges Precautions In Burning Rubbish

Fire Chief L. G. Martin, who said the fire department had made an even dozen trips to grass and weed fires this month, made another plea for people to take all precautions when burning rubbish.

Many of the fires have caught from a rubbish blaze that was left unattended, he said. He urged that fires be attended and that people refrain from starting them on windy days.

Yesterday two runs were made to 501 West Barnett where burning rubbish started a grass fire. This run was made at 11 a. m. At 2:25 p. m. a grass fire was extinguished at the home of Volney Davis in Pankeyville.

47 Highway Deaths

120-Mile-Hour Winds Aimed At Norfolk, Va.

Entire Coast to New England Alerted For Mightiest Storm

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C. — Hurricane Ione, a rampaging tempest with winds up to 120 miles an hour, rammed the Eastern Seaboard today and bored north toward Norfolk and New York.

Just before it swept up the coast near this vacation resort, the awesome howler tore the Diamond Shoals lightship from her moorings off lonely Cape Hatteras, endangering her crew of 15 men. They were ordered to "hold your position" at all costs.

A Weather Bureau advisory issued in Washington at 10:30 a. m. CST called the onrushing storm the "strongest and largest" in recent years. It was centered at that hour about 75 miles west of Cape Hatteras.

Hurricane warnings were extended to the Chesapeake Bay, Atlantic City and Block Island, R. I. Following the pattern of all hurricanes when they hit land masses, Ione's force dropped swiftly from 120 miles an hour to somewhat over 100.

One Death Reported
No appreciable further loss of intensity was reported today and tonight as the hurricane bores toward the north, with an erratic tendency to curve slightly to the northeast.

The hurricane center was expected to reach the crowded Washington, D. C., area about midnight, after slaying by ship - crowded Norfolk, Va.

A correspondent working for United Press at hard-hit New Bern, N. C., got out a message by State Highway Patrol radio that a 10-year-old child was drowned there. Lashing winds and mountainous waves tore the Diamond Shoals lightship from her moorings at 8:10 a. m. today and set her adrift at Ione's mercy.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the vessel was underway trying to maintain her position. The lightship was under standing orders to hold her post at all costs to warn other ships away from the rocky shoals some 13 miles southeast of Cape Hatteras light.

Hilda Hits Mexican Coast
As that hurricane, ninth tropical storm of the year, raked the eastern seaboard, its sister, Hilda, hit the Mexican Coast near Tampico today with full force after a journey across the Caribbean Sea.

Winds hit Tampico, an oil refining and port city 150 miles south of the Texas border, with a force of up to 120 miles an hour. At least one nearby town was reported leveled. A major disaster appeared in the making.

International Harvester Workers Return to Jobs

CHICAGO — The first of 40,000 CIO United Auto Workers returned to their jobs at International Harvester Co. plants in six states today, ending a four-week-old strike.

Harvester and UAW negotiators reached agreement late Saturday on a new three-year contract and ratification votes were held during the weekend.

Most of the strikers were expected to go back to their jobs in 18 plants today. A complete work force was expected by Tuesday.

The new contract includes a guaranteed annual wage plan, a general 11-cent hourly pay boost, and a full union shop.

The UAW members went on strike Aug. 23 against plants at Chicago, Rock Island, East Moline, Rock Falls, Canton, Ill.; Memphis, Tenn.; Evansville, Ind.; Indianapolis; Fort Wayne and Richmond, Calif.; Louisville, Ky.; and Springfield and East Springfield, Ohio.

Four Dead, Three Injured in Auto-Train Crash

PEKIN, Ill. — Four persons were killed and three injured Sunday when a New York Central railroad passenger train plowed into a car.

Mrs. Nina Mae Hatcher, 28, her daughters, Connie, 9, and Gelinda, 11, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Alice Hatcher, 75, Sevierville, Tenn., were killed.

Ralph Hatcher, 33, father of the girls killed and driver of the car, and two other children, Jo Ann, 8, and Gordon, 6, were injured. The condition of the injured children was described as critical while the father's condition was considered "fair."

Hatcher, of Tremonty, said he didn't see or hear anything before the crash. The crossing is on Al-lentown road one-fourth mile east of the city. It is in a valley and is in about the center of an S-curve on the road.

Missionary is Seventh Civilian Freed by China

HONG KONG — Communist China today freed an American missionary, who said he signed a fake spy confession and later refuted it, in time for a joint birthday celebration with his wife.

Levi A. Lovegren of Seattle, Wash., seventh American civilian released under the Reds' slow motion repatriation plan, crossed the border at 2:02 p. m. (11:02 p. m. CST Sunday).

He said the Reds made a special effort to free him on his 67th birthday today. His missionary wife, who was waiting for him near the border, celebrated her 65th birthday. The happy couple and their daughter, Mildred, who already had baked a birthday cake, planned a celebration tonight.

Shouts of "happy birthday" from the party which met him at the border brought tears to Lovegren's eyes. "Thank you all so much for remembering," he said.

The Baptist missionary denied Communist charges of "espionage" on which he was imprisoned. He said he signed a "confession" because the Communists told him it was the only way he could get out of China but "I refuted it a year ago."

"They accused me of being an agent," he said. "I was not. I am a missionary."

The Communists jailed Lovegren on charges of "collecting intelligence" in the Sikang area of far western China and of "conducting espionage." He had served four years and eight months of a five-year sentence.

The Communists Sunday freed three American priests after two years of captivity. They are the Revs. Frederick A. Gordon, Somerset, Ohio; Joseph E. Hyde, Lowell, Mass.; and James G. Joyce, Clinton, Mass.

Legislator Gets Punched Trying to Play Peacemaker to Battling Couple

CHICAGO — Rep. Charles A. Boyle tried to play peacemaker between a battling husband and wife Sunday night and got punched for his pains.

The Illinois Democrat was strolling down the sidewalk when he came upon Thuren Gentry, 45, beating his wife, Dora, 28.

The congressman dashed up to his two warlike constituents and said "Hey listen, what's the matter here?"

As Boyle tells it, this is what happened then:

"He threw her down, and then he hits me. He is using the worst kind of language you ever heard in the Navy. There's a big pile of rocks there, and he picks 'em up to work on me some more."

"Well, I could run faster than that guy with the load of bricks. Somebody called the police then. I'll tell you—that man was as

Trial Begins for Two in 'Wolf- Whistle' Slaying

Empanelling of Jury Starts for White Defendants

SUMNER, Miss. (CP)—Two white men went on trial in a tensely crowded courtroom today for the "wolf-whistle" slaying of a 15-year-old Chicago Negro boy.

Empanelling of the jury started at once.

The defendants, J. W. Milam, 26, and his half brother, Roy Bryant, 24, could get death in the state gas chamber if convicted of killing young Emmet Till and throwing his weighted body in the Tallahatchie River for purportedly whistling at Bryant's young wife.

They have denied the slaying which was given the "lynch" brand by several Negro organizations.

Defense attorney C. Sidney Carlton said Milam and Bryant were "in very good spirits."

Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham was assisted in the prosecution by former FBI Agent Robert B. Smith, appointed by Gov. Hugh White because "the people of Mississippi are anxious that justice be done."

Carlton said Milam and Bryant were confident of acquittal on charges of a murder that brought cries of indignation from many parts of the world, directed both at them and the state of Mississippi.

Attorneys said the two were anxious to get the trial over with and were ready to face trial on additional charges of kidnapping. The kidnapping charge could bring a maximum of 10 years in prison under Mississippi law. Conviction of murder could mean a life sentence if mercy is recommended and death in the gas chamber if mercy is not recommended.

Milam and Bryant admitted routing the boy from bed at the home of an uncle he was visiting at the tiny community of Money, Miss., last Aug. 28 and taking him away at gunpoint. But they claimed they released Till unharmed.

Sheriff George Smith of Leflore County, in which Money is located, quoted the defendants as saying they thought Till was one of a group of teen-agers who had invaded Bryant's attractive 24-year-old wife at the Bryants' rural store by directing a wolf call and an "insulting goodbye" at her.

GOP to Hold 100 Salute to Ike Fund Raising Dinners

WASHINGTON — The Republican National Committee will kick off its 1956 fund-raising campaign, with 100 "Salute to Eisenhower" dinners on Jan. 20.

GOP leaders hope the dinners will give President Eisenhower any prodding he needs to run for reelection.

John Clifford Folger, GOP finance chairman, said the dinners "will provide the opportunity for people throughout the nation to get together and tell our great President what a magnificent job he is doing for the country."

The "Salute to Eisenhower" dinners will be held simultaneously in principal cities throughout the nation of the third anniversary of the President's inauguration. There will be at least one in each state and three or four in some of the larger states.

Proceeds will go into the coffers of the GOP national, senatorial and congressional campaign committees and to the states themselves.

Powell Named to Two Commissions

Rep. Paul Powell (D), Vienna, was reappointed to the Illinois Budgetary Commission, by Speaker Warren Wood, Plainfield. Rep. Powell has been a member of this commission since 1945.

The Budgetary Commission is one of the most important committees of the State, and has to do with preparing the budget and approving the appropriations for all State agencies. Sen. Everett Peters (R), St. Joseph, was re-elected chairman, and Rep. Ora Dillavou (R), Champaign, vice chairman.

Mr. Powell has also been a member of the Appropriations committee of the House since 1935.

Speaker Wood also appointed Rep. Powell as a member of the House Chamber Improvement Commission along with himself and Rep. Ben Rhodes (R), Normal. This commission was created to study and make plans for remodeling the House of Representatives necessitated by the additional members because of the redistricting of the State.

Butler Charges Administration Callous to Falling Farm Economy

CHICAGO (CP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler charged the Eisenhower administration today with taking a "callous" and "unsympathetic" attitude toward the "collapsing farm economy."

Butler accused President Eisenhower of extending "lavish help to his big business friends" while feeling "it is wrong and immoral to save the American farmer."

Butler issued a statement at the start of the first meeting of a 15-member "agricultural advisory committee" he named to work out a Democratic farm policy. Republican leaders were meeting in the same hotel to discuss mechanics of their 1956 convention.

Butler attacked recent Republican statements on the farm price situation made by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, and GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall.

"To me, their statements seem ill-tempered and unsympathetic, as if these officials were irritated with the farmers for spoiling the administration's claims of universal prosperity," Butler said.

He said there has been "a whole series of callous statements" from the administration on farm policy, starting with a remark by Undersecretary of Agriculture True Morse "that the small farmer, in effect, ought to be plowed under."

Then Butler said an economic advisor to Benson remarked that "the impoverished farmer ought to snap out of his dream world of high prices."

"It solves nothing merely to treat the farmer scornfully because he cannot manage forces beyond his control," Butler said. "It solves nothing to deny that Eisenhower promised 'full parity' to the farmers in 1952. The farmers know full well that he did."

Butler said that through tariffs, tax relief, and "plain give-aways," the President has extended lavish help to his big business friends.

The August production came from 109 mines in 30 counties which employed 11,463 miners, compared with 10,982 men working in July.

Williamson county was the top producer with 593,236 tons. Two men were killed and 86 injured in the mines during August, bringing the 1955 totals to 13 dead and 647 injured.

Both August fatalities were caused by roof falls, one in Montgomery county and one in Williamson county.

Forced to Quit Under Threat Of Bombardment

Rebel Radio Says Peron Seeks Asylum In Paraguayan Embassy

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (CP) — Juan D. Peron's nine-year personal rule of Argentina has ended.

His government announced today that he would resign.

He took the action under the guns of a rebel fleet which stood in battle array off Buenos Aires, threatening to bombard the city unless Peron resigned.

The rebel radio at Cordoba said Peron had sought political asylum in the Paraguayan Embassy in Buenos Aires.

The news that Peron had decided to give up in the fourth day of the Argentine civil war was broadcast over the official Argentine radio in Buenos Aires. Gen. Franklin Lucero, minister of war, in announcing Peron's decision to resign, said:

"His spirit of battle prompts him to fight, but his patriotism and love of the people induce him to renounce all personal ambition."

Actually, Peron and Lucero had no choice. Buenos Aires was in dire danger and the revolt had spread rapidly through the provinces.

Lucero played his last card at about the time a rebel ultimatum was due to expire. The ultimatum stipulated that the fleet would shell Buenos Aires unless Peron quit.

Lucero offered to negotiate a cease-fire, and invited the rebel leaders to go in to Buenos Aires and confer in his office. The rebels announced they would not start any parley until Peron resigned unconditionally. But they did offer to send a ship into Buenos Aires, take Lucero aboard and talk with him aboard a warship in the estuary of the Plate River.

Warnings Broadcast
Lucero's request to the rebels for a cease-fire was made almost at the moment that the insurgent ultimatum expired.

A radio broadcast, believed to be from the rebel fleet, had announced that Buenos Aires would be brought under fire at 1 p. m. (10 a. m. CST) unless Peron resigned.

The broadcast repeated previous warnings to the civilian population to leave areas around military objectives.

It cited specifically the installations of the state oil monopoly at Eva Peron La Plata and the Rio Santiago naval school, which it said would be shelled at 1 p. m.

Another radio broadcast from the rebel fleet warned civilians to evacuate a strip more than a half mile wide along the Buenos Aires waterfront.

The rebel radio in Mendoza was heard in Santiago, Chile, announcing that the cities of Rosario, Tucuman, Santa Fe, Catamarca and Neuquen were in the hands of the revolutionary forces.

Earlier, the rebels claimed that Santa Fe provinces, containing Rosario, the nation's second largest city, had joined the spreading revolt.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
GOP Dusts Off Henry Wallace's Old Farm Plan; Benson's Boys Have Already Condemned Plan, But GOPers
Still Boost It; Supreme Court
Once Ruled It Illegal.

WASHINGTON. — Two important political huddles on farm problems are in the news this month:
One by the Republicans in Washington when 48 GOP national committee members gathered for Len Hall's "school"; the other in Chicago today when top Democratic farm experts gather there to counter the Republicans.

Part of what GOP "pupils" discussed with schoolteacher Len Hall and what has developed afterward has now leaked out; part has not.
Here are some of the developments:

Development No. 1 — One thing that didn't leak out is that, after "school," usually optimistic GOP Chairman Hall begged and pleaded with the White House to come up with a concrete, far-reaching farm program. Otherwise, he warned, the Republican party might lose the entire farm vote.

Development No. 2 — The White House has asked the Soil Conservation Service to answer charges that Eisenhower has hurt the Soil Conservation Service. To farmers, soil conservation is sacred. And unfortunately the cuts, shifts and shake-ups instituted in the conservation service are attributed directly to Eisenhower since his brother Milton made recommendations direct to the White House.
In this case the blame can't be shunted to the bloody, unbowed head of Secretary Benson.

Development No. 3 — The Republicans took to Denver a new plan to limit farm acreage and take excess acreage out of production.

Considerable criticism of the plan was voiced off-the-record in the Len Hall school session, on the ground that it looked exactly like the old Henry Wallace system of paying farmers not to produce.
Some GOP committeemen were quite critical. They pointed out that Eisenhower had already taken over the Brannan plan, despite the terrific Republican barrage raised against it in 1952, and had applied it to wool. So they warned it would be suicidal to line up with Henry Wallace's plan to pay farmers to keep acreage idle. Some GOPers were unkind enough to compare it with Henry's killing of little pigs.

To avoid this, various names were proposed for the new Republican farm plan scheme, ranging from "leased acres" to "rented acres" to "acreage reserve." However, call it any name you want,
it all boils down to the same thing:
namely, the farmer would be paid for taking a certain percentage of his farm out of production and putting it in grass, and in effect renting it to Secretary Benson. Benson would then keep it idle.

Development No. 4 — GOP researchers have now discovered, though they're keeping very tight-lipped about it, that this was exactly what the Supreme Court ruled illegal in the days when Henry Wallace first set up the old Triple A or "Agricultural Adjustment Administration."

Wallace, under the Triple A act, paid farmers to set aside a certain amount of acreage in grass, trees, green manure crops to be plowed under, or farm ponds. But the Supreme Court ruled that such payments could not be made and there was a storm of protest, mostly from Republicans, against Wallace.

It was this Supreme Court decision which chiefly led to Roosevelt's famed fight to increase the number of justices and thus change the court's anti-New Deal decisions.

So some GOP leaders don't at all like the idea of reviving that chapter of history, in which they were bitterly on the other side.
At this late date they don't want to line up on Henry Wallace's side.

Development No. 5 — It's now discovered that the Eisenhower administration has already gone on record against the very same "leased acres" plan which was taken to Denver for its approval.

Furthermore, the opposition was put in writing, and no later than July 27 of this year.

The opposition took the form of a letter by True Morse, undersecretary of agriculture, to Congressman Harold Cooley of North Carolina, chairman of the House committee on agriculture. In it Morse emphatically stated that the leased-acres plan wouldn't work and would cost too much.

Yet this is the plan which Republican leaders took to Denver six weeks later as their recommendations for a farm program.
HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES
Secretary of State Dulles recently gave Canadian Foreign Minister Mike Pearson a pep talk over the phone. Dulles urged the Canadian foreign policy chief to talk bluntly to Russian leaders during his upcoming Moscow visit to make it clear that the Russians must make sweeping concessions if the Geneva good-will atmosphere is to last. Pearson agreed to make the pitch, but warned that the United States must make concessions, too. — Charles Lindbergh, famed pioneer aviator, was extremely upset over having his picture taken by news photographers last week. For years, he has tried to keep his face out of the newspapers, so he won't be recognized.

Utah's outspoken Gov. J.
Bracken Lee doesn't practice economy as well as he preaches it. He has juggled state funds, left by the previous administration, to make up for tax loss. Meanwhile, his property tax cuts have helped the big boys. Kennecott Copper alone has saved a cool million dollars in state taxes, which small-bracket payers will have to make up when the reserves are drained
dry. — Philanthropist Joseph Kelley personally saved the tiny, flood-ravaged village of River-town, Conn., from hunger. He sent 400 pounds of meat, 1,500 pounds of coffee, supplies of canned food, clothing, shovels and mops to the 500 villagers through the good offices of Congressman Jim Patterson, Connecticut Republican. — The Senate Narcotics subcommittee, headed by Texas Sen. Price Daniel, will explore the question of whether the federal government should sell cheap narcotics to dope addicts to eliminate dope smuggling.

Methodist Youth Revival Features Ventriloquist

Bob Bradford

Bob Bradford, impersonator and ventriloquist, will present a unique program of voice versatility at the First Methodist church each night this week at 7:30 during Youth Revival services.

Through the medium of his animated little friend, "Jiggers Johnson," Mr. Bradford demonstrates a series of amazing feats through the use of his voice. Imitation, impersonations, singing and a variety of other demonstrations without lip movements prove Mr. Bradford to be one of the foremost ven-triloquists in the world today.

Parents Blamed for Teen Food Faults

CARBONDALE, Ill. — — — Parents can take most of the blame, if children grow up with atrocious eating habits, says one authority.

Mrs. Mary Barnes, Southern Illinois University nutritionist, says that when children exert their independence, "parents give in all too quickly to their choice of foods."

Mrs. Barnes, who has made a study of teen-agers' eating habits, says that on the whole they are "deplorable."

"In the years when children should be building up good nutrition reserves," she said, "they are tearing down their health by eating on the run, going without breakfast and eating too much sugar."

Mrs. Barnes said diets of many teenagers are low in vitamins and calcium and too high in sugar.

The SIU nutritionist advised against between-meal snacks, which she said may result in overweight and sluggishness.

Who Rides With Wyatt

by Will Henry

Illustrated by M.E.A. Copyright 1954, 1955 by Will Henry. Used by arrangement with Random House.

XXV
The big bulk of the men that backed Bill Brocius and the Clanton-McLowry rustler outfit passed themselves off as honest "cow-boys." The simple fact was that better than half the decent folks in Tombstone never caught on they were otherwise. You can still get an argument down in Cochise County that lots of those boys were innocent, hard-working cowhands, only in town to let off a little steam and having no better sense than to hang with Curly Bill's bunch while opening their valves.

Wyatt always said that in his day down there you didn't spell cowboy any different than you did outlaw. Taken that way, it wasn't so funny that when he heard Curly and Ringo had hit town with a dozen Galeyville "cowboys," Wyatt got the old shotgun down off its wall pegs and went to checking the hang and feel of his .44's.

When he'd promised Clum he'd stay within the law, he hadn't just been letting his tongue ramble. One side of him that has never come down through the years like it should, was what went on inside that lion-sized head of his. And it's important. Anybody that wants to take a square look at the record has got to see that Wyatt was smart. But smartness comes in all sizes. And every brain has its blind side. Wyatt always weighed out short on political savvy and on the ways to butter-up people and make friends and defenders of them with one hand while robbing them blind with the other. At the same time he had the kind of a mind that all slickers hate, and that they can't understand nor handle.

He always thought in a dead-straight line. You couldn't bribe him, you couldn't make him lie, you couldn't turn him aside.

Some weeks before, the Committee had put Virgil back to work for the city. They'd made him chief of police, Wyatt selling them on the idea it would let him and Morg operate in certain emergencies where they couldn't horn in as deputy U. S. marshals.

Meantime, there hadn't been any emergencies to turn up that would fit this bill. But where one didn't fit, Wyatt wasted no time in manufacturing one that did—right out of the whole cloth. It had been his full idea back of the Sulphur Springs raid, naturally, and Curly and his bunch had bought the entire bolt of it right down to the bare spindle.

He waited only long enough for them to get all-day drunk and for night to come on to cover his own moves. Then he called Clum and the Safety Committee to order.

"Gentlemen," he put it to them. "As you may just possibly have heard, Curly Bill Brocius and John Ringo are in town. They are drunk and disorderly, armed in defiance of our civic statutes, and are announcing to anybody who will listen that their purpose here is to wipe out certain duly appointed peace officers and open up Tombstone."

"Mr. Clum has expressed certain reservations about the legality of my intentions to see that these boys are served what they came after."

"It will be legal, Virgil, here, has deputized Morgan and myself. Local law is being broken and we are properly sworn in as local law."

men. If there are any questions let them come about here." Clum backed him all the way, and the Committee backed Clum. He thanked them politely but said he would not move uptown one step unless him and his brothers were allowed to go it alone. Giving second thought to their loving wives and cozy homes, and to the reputations of some of the celebrators, namely Curly and Ringo, the would-be deputies sat down a mite quicker than they'd stood up.

The only trouble was that the Earps were 16 hours ahead of history. And 10 minutes behind some blabbermouth on the Committee.

Wyatt never felt that anybody in Clum's bunch did it deliberately. It was just that where you've got a couple dozen mouths walking out of a back room, tight closed, one of them is bound to flap open the minute it hits outside air. One way or another it's certain that Ringo and Curly Bill caught the smell of sudden trouble coming up Allen Street some short minutes ahead of Virgil Earp and his two "new deputies."

The kid later claimed that him and Brocius would never have backed down except that the Clantons and McLowrys, who were supposed to come along up from down south in Charleston, had failed to show on schedule and Curly didn't want to tackle the Earps without them.

It was a legitimate excuse and some still believe it.

"What about these other heroes?" Morg threw his dry grin toward the five Galeyville cowboys.

Wyatt just nodded. "Boys," he said quietly to the lot of them. "You go get your ponies. Round up your friends and get scarce. We're not looking for you and we're not looking for any trouble from you."

Wyatt gave them another long pause to make sure nobody felt cheated of his free-born American rights, then eased around and started for the door. Virg and Morg flanked him right and left. None of the three looked back.

It was a rare man who wasn't willing to take an Earp's word for the surest thing ahead of taxes.

Woman in Shock After Deaths of Husband, 25-Hour-Old Baby

FORT MADISON, Iowa (CP) — Mrs. Edward Hildebrand began last weekend with a new baby and everything in the world to live for. Today she was alone.

First, her 30-year-old husband was killed in a car-truck collision west of Des Moines Saturday. Fifteen hours later, her 25-hour-old baby daughter died of a collapsed lung here.

Mrs. Hildebrand was in a state of shock at the Fort Madison Hospital today.

Unlike most water birds that build their nests in the sand or rocks on shore, the grebe builds hers on the water.

Sept. 25 Last Day to Apply for Hunting Permits on Public Areas

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Only a week remains in which to apply for pheasant and waterfowl hunting permits on Illinois public areas, the Department of Conservation warned today.

Last day for seeking applications for hunting on the eight pheasant areas and the five waterfowl areas operated by the department is Sunday, Sept. 25. Requests for permits received in the mail on Monday, Sept. 26, will be accepted at the Permit Office, 303 East Monroe St., Springfield.

"Earlier opening of the duck season makes it doubly important that we receive the applications on time," Director Glen D. Palmer said today. "With thousands of applications coming in, our permit office will be hard pressed to process the permits in time for the Oct. 15 opening."

Thanks to the addition of two new pheasant hunting areas (O'Hare Field near Chicago and Shelby county near Chicago) and one new duck area (Marshall county south of Lacon) and longer duck and pheasant seasons, the department will be able to accommodate 10,500 more hunters than customary, Director Palmer said.

Ed Fitzgerald, game management representative in charge of the public hunting areas, suggested that hunters who can get away for week-day shooting should request dates during the week and avoid the week end rush. He said

Society

Mrs. Lula Beal Meadows, mother of Mrs. Frankie Guess of this city, has undergone surgery at Clay County hospital in Brazil, Ind. Her room number is 211. Last word received by relatives here was that Mrs. Meadows was not feeling too well. Mrs. Guess is with her mother.

Dick Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Harold Jr., 608 South Main, is attending Kemper Military School, Boonville, Mo., for his second year. Harold is particularly active in rifle and softball.

James Ford, well known real estate dealer of this city, left today for Evansville to enter Welborn Baptist hospital for clinical examination and possible surgery.

License Sales This Year Surpass '54

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today announced motor vehicle license sales for the first eight months of 1955 have surpassed sales for the entire year of 1954 by 73,944.

The total registrations for eight months was 172,357 more for 1955 than for eight months of 1954. The only declining category was buses, where only 1,705 were registered this year compared with 2,010 at the same time in 1954.

The total passenger cars for eight months was 2,763,933 in 1955, and 2,615,295 in 1954.

It would be much easier for the permit office to give a hunter his first choice of location on week days than it is on Saturdays and Sundays.

It was pointed out, however, that the waterfowl areas are closed on Mondays and Fridays in order to give the ducks resting time from the bombardment.

"Ye" in Old English Does Not Mean "You" or "Your."

It means "the", and was so pronounced without any "y" sound. In Anglo-Saxon there was a symbol now written as "th" but which was represented by "y". In consequence, the correct pronunciation of "ye" is "the". Popular Fallacies—A. S. E. Ackermann.

CONSTRUCTION WORK AT HARRISBURG'S BASE.
BALL FIELD FOR NIGHT PLAY has progressed at a rapid pace this month and sponsors of the program hope to have at least one game played on the field this fall. The work of setting poles and bunting off the field was started Labor Day and volunteer workers have been at the field practically every day since. Saturday a group worked all day on the grandstand and REA linemen put up additional guy wires to anchor the high light poles. The grandstand, of concrete blocks, was blueprinted by T. P. Thompson, who also furnished wheel barrows, concrete mixer, scaffolds and other equipment. Furnishing volunteer labor Saturday included Charles Brannock, Charles Yates, John Holloway, Bill Durham, Darrell Durham, Darrell Hodson, brick masons; Hughie Walker, Harold Gulley, "Flash" Griffith, John Owen, "Rabbit" Owen, Bill Hull, Jim Hay, Buddy Sowers and Bill Jackson, Merle Dailey, Darrel Piper and Paul Vinyard of the REA. Another work day is scheduled for next Saturday and it is hoped the work, including building the grandstand, and wiring the field will be completed. The grandstand is being built in two sections, with seating for 250 in each. One section is down the third base line and the other down first base. It is constructed in such a manner that it can be enlarged, either by extending down the base lines, or connecting back of home plate.

UCLA, Arkansas, Mississippi To Rank High

By United Press
 Now that the early returns have been tabulated on the 1955 college football season, pass and punt punts today agreed that UCLA, Mississippi and Arkansas once again will rank high on the national ladder.

All three teams turned in impressive triumphs during the weekend and should be ready to shoot the works when the ball starts bouncing all over the nation this week. UCLA, the No. 1 team in the United Press ratings at the conclusion of the 1954 season, opened its new campaign with a 21-0 rout over Texas A&M. The Uclans next run into Maryland, a 13-12 victor over Missouri, in an interesting East-West meeting at College Park, Md., next Saturday.

Mississippi hopes to follow up its 26-13 spanking of Georgia with another victory at Kentucky, while Arkansas, which presented new coach Jack Mitchell with a 21-6 triumph over Tulsa, will play the Oklahoma Aggies at home.

The remainder of last year's top 10 teams, with the exception of Miami, launch new drives for nation recognition next weekend. Rose Bowl champion Ohio State will be at North Carolina, Notre Dame hosts Southern Methodist, Navy entertains William & Mary, Army plays Furman at home, and Wisconsin hosts Marquette.

Miami, beaten by Georgia Tech, 14-6, in their nationally televised opener at Atlanta, has an open date this week, then will warm up against Florida State before meeting Notre Dame at home Oct. 7.

In this week's other major games, Illinois will be at California, Washington at Minnesota, Georgia Tech at Florida, Michigan at Indiana, Missouri at Michigan, Boston U. at Penn State, Pittsburgh at Syracuse, Miss. St. at Tennessee, Tulane at Texas, Baylor at Villanova, Washington St. at Kansas and Kansas St. at Iowa.

New Coach Adds Pep

Last weekend's games proved once again that a new coach always provides his team with added incentive, at least in opening battles.

Paul Dietzel, former assistant coach at Army, gleefully watched his L.S.U. squad turn back Kentucky, 19-7; former Pittsburgh star Johnny Michelosen made a successful debut at his alma mater when the Panthers scored a 27-7 victory over California, and Oregon State blanked Brigham Young, 33-0, for new coach Tommy Prothro.

The comparatively light opening schedule also produced a share of individual heroes.

Halfback Jackie Simpson zoomed 101 yards with a pass interception in Florida's 20-14 win over Mississippi State; halfback Don Schmidt's two touchdowns helped Texas Tech score its first victory in history over Texas, 20-14 and sub Dick Bowen scored twice in the final period as Pitt turned back California.

SIU Drops Grid Opener, 7-0

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Southern Illinois university lost its 7-0 grid opener to Southeast Missouri State college at Cape Girardeau, Mo., Saturday night, but left a warning to mid-season and late-season foes. The SIU Salukis, after only two weeks work with a new style of playing under head coach Al Kawa, outgained Cape both on the ground and in the air.

Three times in the first half the Salukis came within 10 yards of scoring, only to lose the ball on downs. A fourth down attempt in the second quarter fell only a yard short of a touchdown.

Defensively, the Salukis looked good and Cape, after scoring a first quarter touchdown, never threatened.

Cape's lone touchdown came in the first five minutes as quarterback Larry Yeargain of Sikeston, Mo., tossed a 30-yard pass to veteran end John Schneider of St. Louis, who snagged the pass on the five and ran for a touchdown. Yeargain's extra point place kick was good.

Statistics show that SIU outgained Cape in net rushing, 150-104 and gained 131 yards in passes compared to 46 for Cape. In total yardage SIU netted 241 yards compared to 150 for the winners.

SIU clashes with Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington Saturday night, Sept. 24, and then returns home for a game against Central Michigan Oct. 1.

Minneapolis and Rochester to Play in Junior World Series

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — It will be the Rochester Red Wings of the International League against the Minneapolis Millers of the American Association in the Junior World Series.

Both teams completed a 4-0 sweep of the final round of their league playoffs Sunday. The amazing Red Wings came from six runs behind to beat Toronto, 11-10, in 11 innings here. The Millers won two games from Omaha, 7-3 and 7-2, at Omaha.

The first game of the best-of-seven Junior World Series will be played here, the date yet to be chosen in view of the quick finish in each playoff.

About 65,000,000 Americans ride some form of public transit every day.

Marciano, Moore Break Camp for Bout Tuesday Night

NEW YORK — Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore broke camp today and headed for New York, where more than 100 workmen at Yankee Stadium were arranging seats and erecting the ring for Tuesday night's heavyweight championship fight.

Unbeaten Marciano was still a 16-5 favorite in the betting to keep his title. But he was a much heavier favorite among the sports writers. A poll of 34 disclosed today that only one picked Moore. The other 33 forecast a kayo victory by Rocky.

Don Wolfe, sports editor of the Toledo, Ohio, Blade, not only selected 28-year-old Moore to win, but he said it would be on a third-round knockout. He stressed, "Archie is a far superior fighter and he will shoot the works."

Champion and challenger expressed confidence as they finished training Sunday in their mountain camps—Rocky in the Catskills and Archie in the Berkshires. Each sparred two rounds in his final workout.

Eldorado Merchants Defeat Uniontown Cardinals, 8-1

The Eldorado Merchants played host to the Uniontown, Ky., Cardinals Sunday and defeated them, 8-1, in a game played on the diamond at Raleigh.

Charley Griffith was on the mound for Eldorado and struck out 11. He also had a lone home run in the fourth with one man on base. Griffith last fall pitched against Mt. Carmel and Don Liddle in a 10-inning 0-0 ball game at Harrisburg. He pitched this year in a pro league in Minnesota.

Uniontown used Kline, Blase and Bumpus on the hill and Howard behind the plate.

Eldorado was led at bat by Gid-cum with three hits. Thaxton, Beasley and Eubanks had two each and Irvin, Cooley, Griffith and Woolard each had one hit to round out the 13-hit attack. Wm. Yeager had two hits to lead Uniontown.

Next Sunday Eldorado will travel to Uniontown to play the Cardinals a return game. There will be practice sessions Tuesday and Friday evenings of this week at 6 o'clock.

Uniontown scored five in the second, two in the third and two each in the seventh and eighth to complete its scoring.

Dick Romonosky, with a double and triple, Harold Guiley with a double and single and Bob Dallas with two singles led the Legion's hitting attack. Fred Williams, Don Wallace, Tom Hamilton, Don Stout and Carl Griffiths picked up the other hits.

Bill McNew, Tom Hamilton, Don Wallace and Don Stout all took turns pitching for the losers with Dick Romonosky catching. Hicks and Piper were the batteries for the winners.

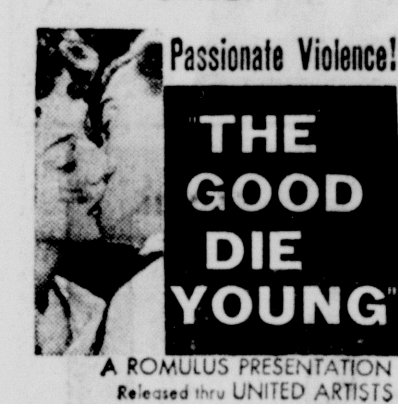

Next Sunday the Legion will play the Evansville College All-Stars at the town park diamond.

Ty Cobb won the American League batting championship 12 times—the most in the league—while with the Detroit Tigers between 1907 and 1919, losing out to Tris Speaker in 1916.

Yankees Beat Red Sox, 3-2, Lead by Two Games as Indians Lose to Detroit

By United Press

Casey Stengel and his New York Yankees had the American League pennant virtually locked up today—and they "won the big one" just a year to the day after their fabulous five-year reign as world champions ended.

With Bob Grim, the rookie of the year in 1954, hurling no-hit relief ball for seven innings, the Yankees beat the Boston Red Sox, 3-2, Sunday and went two full games ahead when the collapsing Cleveland Indians dropped their fourth straight game, 10-3, to the Detroit Tigers. It was on Sept. 18, 1954 that the Indians mathematically clinched the flag and ended the Yankees' record string of five consecutive world championships.

The Yankees, who've won 13 of their last 17 games, can stretch their lead to 2-1-2 games tonight by beating the Washington Senators and they'll clinch the flag mathematically if they cop five of their last seven games. The Indians can finish with 95 victories if they win all their last five games but the Yankees already have won 91 games with seven to play.

The third-place Chicago White Sox, who've lost seven of their last 12 games including an 8-1 decision to the Kansas City Athletics Sunday, will be mathematically eliminated with the Yankees' next victory.

The victory made Grim's record 6-5 compared to his brilliant rookie campaign in which he won 20 games and lost six.

The Indians, meanwhile, suffered a humiliating defeat at the hands of 20-year old rookie Bob Miller, the kid pitcher the Yankees beat last week and whom Detroit Manager Bucky Harris promised to hurl against Cleveland, too.

Gus Zernial's grand-slam homer was the big blow for the Athletics, who took two out of three from the White Sox. Art Ditmar went the route for his 12th victory while Dick Donovan suffered his ninth defeat.

Orioles Tie for Seventh
 In the other American league game, the Baltimore Orioles tied the Washington Senators for seventh place when they beat them, 9-0, behind Jim Wilson's five-hit pitching. The win made Wilson's record 12-17.

In the National league, the Brooklyn Dodgers beat the New York Giants, 7-5, as Clem Labine made his 57th relief appearance but Willie Mays hit his 48th homer to retain his two-homer lead over Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski. Kluszewski hit No. 46 as the Redlegs crushed the Chicago Cubs, 12-5.

The Milwaukee Braves beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 2-1, while the Philadelphia Phillies downed Pittsburgh, 2-1, after the Pirates won the opener of their doubleheader, 5-2.

Dependable insurance is like that, too. It's not fun to be caught without it. Also, it's one thing you just can't get when you need it most. After an accident or loss has occurred, it's too late to buy better insurance if the policy you have proves unsatisfactory.

Miss Wilma Edwards Becomes Bride of S-Sgt. Wendell Burrows

A lovely June wedding took place Saturday, June 25, when Miss Wilma Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Edwards, Galatia, became the bride of S-Sgt. Wendell N. Burrows, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norrie Burrows, Modoc, Ind., in a double ring ceremony at the Galatia Methodist church. Rev. William Sims of East St. Louis officiated at the two o'clock service.

Standards of white gladioli and palms with candelabras were arranged around the altar.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, chose a ballroom length gown of imported chantilly lace and nylon tulle over the traditional bridal satin. The fitted lace bodice was sprinkled with pale pink and blue sequins, with a high stand-up collar. The voluminous skirt of tulle was worn over a skirt of satin. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle and chantilly lace, which was caught to a lace cap embroidered with pearls, was made by the bride.

She carried on a white Bible, a single white orchid encircled with Stephanotis and streamers.

Miss Velma Keelin, roommate of the bride, wore a madonna blue ballerina length lace strapless gown, which was worn with a matching lace jacket closed with tiny covered buttons. She wore a matching head piece trimmed with a veil and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Mrs. Doris Griffith, organist, played an interlude of nuptial music, and the traditional wedding marches, and accompanied Mrs. Wilma Luechtfeld who sang "My Hero," "One Alone," "If I Could Tell You," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother wore a powder blue mesh dress with white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Burrows chose a navy with pink dress and white accessories. Her flowers were white carnations.

Hostesses were Mrs. Howard Malone, Mrs. William Sims, Mrs. Bud Peyton, Miss Nancy Peyton, Miss Brenda Malone, and Miss Joyce Hudson.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip. They are now at home at 1616 South Illinois Ave., Belleville.
